

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

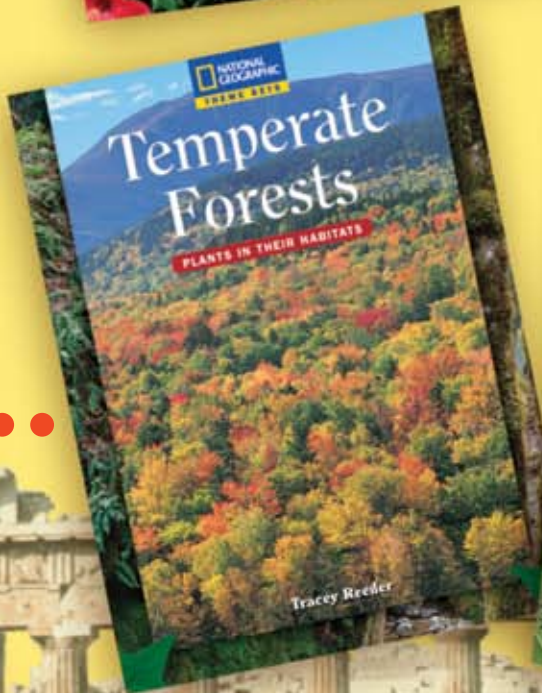

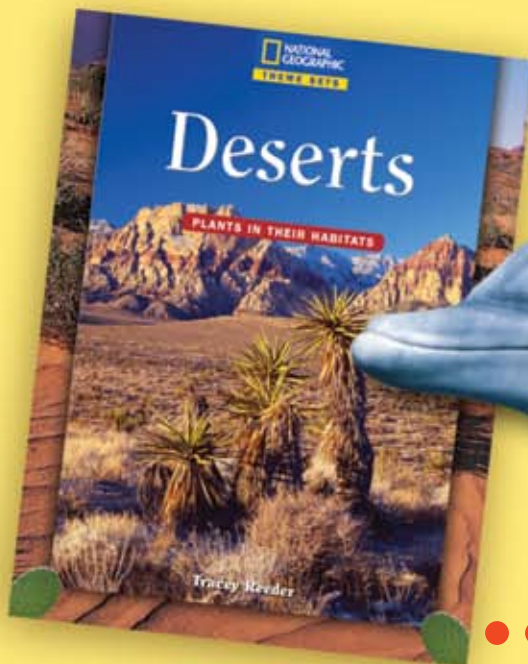

THEME SETS

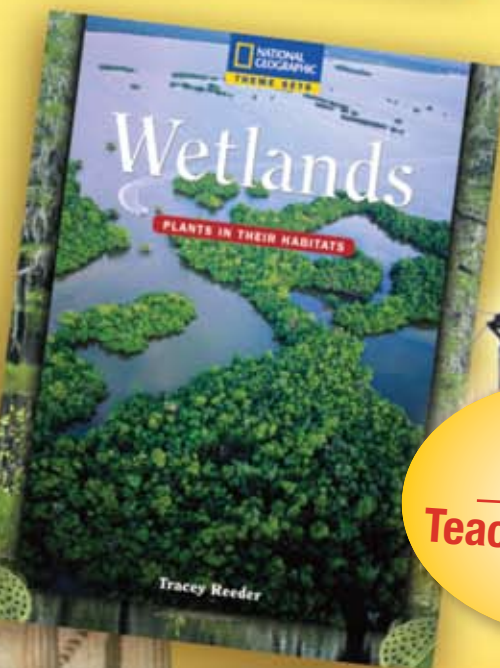

now in the Middle East through interactive knowledge centre
Linking literacy with Science and Humanities for all students

● Easiest

● ● ●

Free
Teacher Support

● ● ● ●
Most Difficult

in intkc.com

This best-selling series helps you develop the non-fiction literacy skills of all students.

Seventeen high-interest theme sets each contain four topic books, each written at a different level to cater for individual reading needs.

While the different topic books address the developmental needs of students with varying reading abilities, they simultaneously allow for whole-group discussions and activities as the key concepts and core vocabulary remain the same.

Changes between theme books that cater for varying reading abilities

- each book explores a different topic that illustrates the central theme
- text increases and sentence structure becomes more complex
- vocabulary ranges from simple to complex
- number of concepts covered in a given section increases.

Similarities between theme books

- key concepts developed are the same
- a variety of visual-literacy elements are provided
- students are encouraged to research and write
- a variety of nonfiction characteristics are introduced.

Additional literacy features

Each theme set focuses on one nonfiction genre. Each book in the theme then defines and explains the text type and identifies its characteristics.

The books also provide explicit instruction on one visual-literacy skill and include activities designed to develop and refine research and writing skills.

Web-based teaching support

All the tools you need to streamline planning and teaching time. Free

The teacher notes provide at-a-glance planning tips, comprehensive lesson plans and guidance on appropriately matching students to books. Photocopy masters included.

www.macmillan.com.au/primary

